The film released in January 2010 to mixed reviews. A sequel to this film, Aadukalam is also in progress. Plot A routine traffic accident kills the hero's father. The hero is called "Kuppan" to perform the funeral rites. After completion of rituals, there is a clash between the temple priest (Gowtham Sundararajan) and the young priest (Prabhu Ganesan). The tension between two of them becomes even bigger when they both fall in love with two girls of same name (Tamanna Bhatia & Sakshi Shivanand) who happen to be sisters. The hero's mother suffers from cancer, so he is forced to look after her. A climax happens when the parents meet, when one of the priests gets possessed by a spirit and kills the mother. The priest who was in possession of the spirit also dies in the struggle.
